I.

(1)

Boy: Can I help you?

Woman: Thank you! Can you carry these boxes with me?

Boy: Sure!

Woman: They're a little heavy.

Boy: No problem.

(2)

Boy: Excuse me. Is this your pen?

Woman: Yes, it's mine. I was looking for it.

Boy: Here you are.

Woman: Thank you very much!

(3)

Clerk: Welcome. Can I help you?

Boy: How much is that one with the star?

Clerk: It's ten dollars.

Boy: Do you have it in a large size?

Clerk: Yes, we do.

(4)

Woman: Excuse me... I have a map, but I don't know the way.

Boy: Where do you want to go?

Woman: I want to go to the museum.

Boy: Oh, it's this way. I can walk with you.

(5)

Clerk: Welcome. Please write your name here.

Boy: OK.

Clerk: Thank you. Is this your first time here?

Boy: Yes. I'm a little excited.

Lisa: Hi, Ken. You look sleepy. Are you okay?

Ken: Yeah... I didn't get much sleep.

Lisa: What were you doing last night? Homework?

Ken: No. I was playing games until late last night.

Lisa: Really? Did you finish your English homework?

Ken: No, I didn't. It was too difficult for me.

Lisa: Oh no! We have English class this afternoon!

Ken: I know. I have to do it soon... Will you help me later?

Lisa: OK. I'll help you after lunch.

Ken: Thank you very much.

Lisa: You should go to bed early tonight!

Ken: You're right. I'll do that.

Lisa: By the way, you're good at math, right?

Ken: Yes, I am.

Lisa: I'm not good at math. Can you help me with my math homework tomorrow afternoon?

Ken: Of course. Let's do it at the library in front of the station.

Lisa: Sounds good. Thank you! Hey, let's go and eat lunch! Hurry up! We don't have much time!
